What would you say if you could send a message to someone in 1,000 years?
The Earth Pyramid aims to give every child in the world that opportunity. The aim of the monument is to capture a snapshot of our amazing world with its many cultures and give children from around the world the opportunity to have their hopes and dreams recorded for the future generations. By looking at the future it will create a great platform for discussing the many peace and environmental issues that the world is facing and give those in the next millennium a chance to learn about our time through the thoughts of ordinary people.

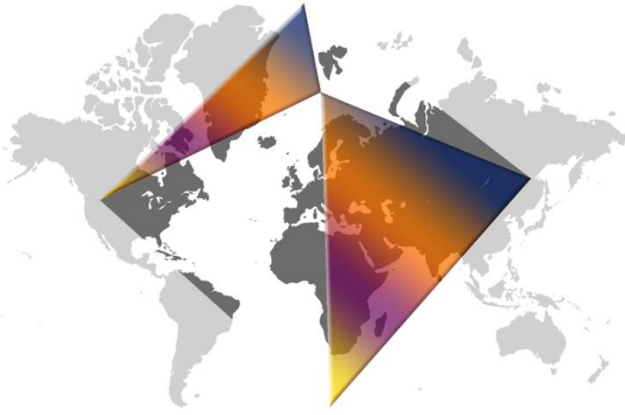

If someone were to read this card in 1,000 years what would you say?
